PILES.

I have suffered for years with Internal Piles, and have had them tried over and over again, but in vain. This I confess astonishes me, as I have always considered myself a pretty good case to cure Piles in every form and description.

Last autumn I was induced to purchase a box of Bradbury's Piles Ointment, and to my surprise and delight, after using it for a few days, I found myself entirely relieved from the terrible itching and smarting which I had endured for so many years. I continued the use of the Ointment for a short time longer, and am now entirely cured.

I have since then been constantly recommending it to my friends, and shall continue to do so, as I consider it a most valuable remedy.

Yours truly,

Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston Texas—passing through New Orleans, the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 475 miles, about two thirds are already built and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an immense traffic assured to it from the start, it being the only rail connection by which the cotton corn cattle and other productions of Texas can reach New Orleans.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of second mortgage bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

TAMMANY'S LAST MOVE.

The last move of the Tammany ring to evade the demand for the publication of the county and city accounts, is discussed by all the leading newspapers. The Times says:

It will be seen that at last the city authorities have determined to do something to clear their characters. What that "something" is will probably astonish the public, although it ought to be tolerably well accustomed by this time to the tortuous processes of Mayor Hall and his friends. The controller's accounts are not laid before the public, —it is supposed to be enough to "dump" seven thousand pages of figures into one of the offices and there let them rest to cool. The figures we have published are not explained away. Not a single item in Ingersoll's, or Garvey's, or Keyser's accounts can be disputed.

To the Mayor's excuse that it would take too long to print them, the Tribune replies that the Printing Company run by the ring is one of the largest concerns in the country and could put the reports in type as fast as all the clerks could furnish copy. It adds:

The Mayor's excuse will deceive nobody, and people who understand the capacity of a large printing establishment will laugh at it. The truth is the Tammany Ring have already confessed that their case is desperate, and nothing can save them except possibly procrastination. Keep back the truth as long as possible. This seems to be the policy which Mayor Hall dictates to his confederates, but unless we have greatly mistaken the temper of the public it will surely fail.

The Evening Post denounces the proposed suit to eject the Times Company from the site occupied by its offices, as an infamous assault upon the freedom of the press, and refers as follows to the Mayor's proposal to submit the accounts to a committee of satellites instead of giving them to the public as the law directs:

By the phrase "both friends and enemies of the city government," Mr. Hall seems to mean the city aldermen and any committee of tax payers whom they may consider as "unbiased, unexceptionable, and unpartisan." The dense ignorance and stupidity required to qualify a man to sit on the jury that tries a notorious murderer are proverbial, but these qualifications are trifles compared with those required of a taxpayer, who would be an "unbiased" examiner of the accounts of Ingersoll and Garvey and of the New York Printing Company, or of the "dead-head" pay-rolls of Comptroller Connolly. We cannot imagine what frightful secrets are concealed in the accounts, that "the ring" should prefer to put their case before the people in the form it now assumes, rather than publish them.

The World, of course, defends the ring and complacently asserts that the Mayor has complied with the popular demand and put his enemies to confusion. The general public, however, regard this last evasion of the authorities after their repeated promises, as adding an insult to their intelligence to the injury to their pockets, and we imagine that ere long the Tammany clique will find that subterfuge is unavailing and that the people are determined to know how and by whom the millions of their money have been fraudulently appropriated.

BUTLER'S CAMPAIGN.

General Butler's Springfield speech has brought the newspapers about his ears in a fashion that would make those of an ordinary man tingle. The Springfield Republican thus paints him as the "Great American Fizzler:"

"In an evil hour, five years ago, the Republicans sent Butler to Congress from the Essex District. The first result of this was a quarrel between him and General Schouler, which cost the latter his office as Adjutant General. No sooner did he take his seat, in March, 1867, than he began to quarrel with Bingham, Farnsworth, and others of the Republican leaders. Before long he developed his greenback theories, and pushed those financial heresies for some months, but finally—fizzled, of course. In 1868 he took up the impeachment and—fizzled; he tried to get Dr. Loring nominated for Governor, and—fizzled; he made a great rowdy-dow against Speaker Colfax in February, 1869, and—fizzled; a month later he quarreled with Speaker Blaine, and fizzled—an operation he has since repeated. In 1870 he quarreled with Mr. Dawes about the appropriations, and—fizzled; he made a demonstration against Canada in Boston, and—fizzled; he tried to commit the President to his view of foreign affairs, and—fizzled; with the help of Wendell Phillips, S. P. Cummings and John I. Baker he tried to break up the Republican party in Massachusetts, but—fizzled. In 1871 he quarreled with Senator Sumner on the San Domingo question, and with the administration on the English treaty—fizzling in both cases badly. He is now in a quarrel with his old friend, Dr. Loring, and is running for Governor—and he has every prospect of a first-class fizzle, as big as he ever made in his life. Have we not well described the orator of this evening then as the Great American Fizzler?"

General Hawley, of the Hartford Courant, telegraphed a request that all papers printing Butler's speech should publish the following statement:

"I came under Butler's command as a colonel commanding a brigade in April, 1864, and was in nearly all the battles of the army of the James. After the battle of Deep Run, August 16, 1864, I was recommended for promotion by Birney and Terry, and Butler added a separate and cordial letter, of which he sent me a copy. I took part as a Brigadier in the battle of October 13. General Butler himself gave me the command of Terry's division while Terry went to Fort Fisher.—After the capture Foster, of Indiana, returned from leave, and being senior to me took the division, and at my own request I was allowed to rejoin my old troops in the reorganized 10th corps in North Carolina. Terry made me chief of staff. That was the last of my connection with Butler. He was sent home while I commanded a district in North Carolina or served as chief of staff in Virginia till October, 1865, and was honorably discharged January 15, 1866, having been brevetted Major General. Butler's slanders are pure inventions, without even a shadow of truth for a basis."

The Boston Journal says:

"Mr. Sanborn branded Benj. F. Butler as a liar at Springfield, Thursday night. General Hawley telegraphed that the charge made against him was an infamous falsehood, and the man who uttered it a liar and a blackguard: and we have proved his financial statements to have been either ignorantly or maliciously guilty of fraud and misrepresentation. And now comes Mr. Edward Atkinson and proves him to have been knowingly, guilty of a wilful and malicious falsehood about him. And this is the reformer who proposes to force himself upon the Republicans of Massachusetts as their candidate for Governor! If Gen. Butler had not wholly shed his sensibility with his reputation, we should ask him to just look over the names of some of the former Governors of this Commonwealth, whose place he now aspires to fill —over the names, for instance, of John Hancock, Samuel Adams, Levi Lincoln, John Davis, Edward Everett, John A. Andrew. Imagine these men associated with that Springfield speech! No human imagination is competent to the task."

The Advertiser convicts him of gross misstatement, and the Post refers to him as follows:

"If he can succeed in leading, not as a Moses so much as an Ishmael, any considerable number of the children of Republican Israel out of their house of bondage, and point them to the true Canaan of sound Democracy, he will have answered about every end either for mischief or beneficence for which he ought to imagine he was created. But when he talks of being elected Governor of Massachusetts, he might as well order the band to strike up at once and let the people march out laughing."

THE RAILROAD DISASTER AT REVERE.

The Boston papers contain full accounts of the disaster on the Eastern Railroad at Revere station Saturday evening, by which it seems, even more horrible than at first described by telegraph. We make the following extracts:

HOW THE COLLISION OCCURRED.

The Boston Journal gives the following:

The evening accommodation train, which stops at Beverly, Nolan conductor, should leave the passenger station in this city at 7:15, but owing to the lateness of the train due from the camp, which was to return, it did not start until a full half hour behind time. The train consisted of baggage car, smoking car and three passenger cars, the four last being crowded, even to the platform. Two engines were attached to the train. The conductor seemed to have some fear that an accident might occur, as he stopped the train near Somerville so long that the passengers became excited and some of them left the cars.

The Pullman train, or Portland express, left the station on time, at exactly eight o'clock, a little more than ten minutes behind the accommodation, stopping only at Somerville. Just before reaching Everett it slackened speed, as if to give the Beverly train an opportunity to get out of the way. At this point, according to the statement of passengers or the accommodation, it was so near as to be plainly seen. The accommodation train had reached Revere, made its stop, and had just commenced moving away from the station when the express came rushing over the track with terrific speed, crashing into the rear car of the train, the locomotive passing two-thirds of the way through the car, carrying everything before it, crushing and scalding nearly every passenger, and killing fifteen outright. Seven more died within the next four hours, and five died during yesterday.

The Herald says:—

Supt. Prescott remained at the depot till the last train had gone. Before the Pullman train left he directed Mr. S. O. Lunt, the depot master, to tell Mr. Wm. Brown, the engineer of the Pullman train, to keep a sharp look-out for the train ahead, especially at switches, as that train was late. Not satisfied with this, before leaving the depot he sent for Mr. Lunt and asked him if he had told Brown what he said, when he was informed that he had, and that he (Brown) would be careful.

THE ENGINEER'S STATEMENT.

A Herald reporter "interviewed" Brown, who escaped with some scratches upon the face and a slight contusion on the shoulder, sustained by jumping from the locomotive.—He was suffering considerably from the remembrance of the scene of the previous night, and did not choose to talk very freely upon the subject. He, however, stated to the reporter that he started five minutes late, was cautioned about the Saugus train, which was ahead, overtook the latter waiting at Everett; that this ran in on the single track long enough to let him pass on, detaining him about five minutes; that he afterwards run slowly intending after passing the curve where the collision took place to make up his time on the long stretch of straight track.—This caution was taken on account of the rain and fog, which prevented objects and even lights to be seen at any great distance. When the leading train was discovered, as he approached around the curve, it was too near to avoid a collision, and he whistled for brakes, reversed his engine and opened his sand-boxes. This was all that could be done, and seeing instant death before them if they remained in the cab, he and his fireman jumped off to save their own lives. Mr. Brown reflects upon no person, but considers that he did all possible to avert the calamity.

Conductor Goodhue, of the Pullman train, was also interviewed, but could throw no additional light upon the cause of the collision, nor give any facts which would either exculpate or fix the blame upon any one.

A large number of the railroad employes have been approached by reporters, but are all very cautious in expressing their opinions or stating facts.

THE RESPONSIBILITY.

On whom the terrible responsibility of causing the disaster rests is not yet certainly determined, but that it was the result of criminal carelessness on the part of one or more persons in the employ of the Eastern Railroad Company does not admit of a moment's question. Who those persons are, can only be established by careful weighing of the facts as they shall appear in the legal examination now pending. It is time that the authors of such wholesale slaughters as resulted from this and the Westport disasters (both on the same day) should be brought to justice.

The Boston dailies all demand a full investigation of the affair. The Advertiser charges the disaster to the criminal carelessness of the employes, and says:—

It is expressing but feebly what all feel, to say that the whole community shudders at the recital of the facts; that all sympathise most deeply with the wounded and maimed survivors; that all mourn most keenly the loss of those, among them the oldest settled minister of Boston, who met their death so fearfully and suddenly, and that all desire the most searching examination into the cause of this dreadful calamity.

The Journal says:—

That it was the result of the most culpable carelessness on the part of some one is too clear to be questioned, and it ought not to be difficult to fix the responsibility upon the guilty party. * * * The public will expect and demand that the investigation shall be most thorough; and they will further demand that the responsible and guilty parties shall be proceeded against at once under the law, and that they be made to suffer its severest penalties. As the case now appears, it is one which calls for the most prompt and the most rigid application of the law, and it is difficult to conceive of any circumstances which can be brought forward in mitigation of their punishment. We hope the proper law officers will feel the responsibility which rests upon them in this matter, and will see to it that through no delay or remissness of theirs the parties responsible for this dreadful loss of life and limbs go unpunished.

The Post, in a brief editorial, says:—

There is little necessity for extended comment or moralizing upon the subject of the terrible accident, details of which will be found in other column. The plain recital is in itself an eloquent comment, and proclaims the moral which has been already proclaimed so loudly and ineffectually by a hundred similar disasters. * * * Appearances certainly indicate that the accident was the result of gross carelessness; but it is due to the managers of the Eastern Railroad, to confidently believe that they will promptly and impartially expose and punish the guilty parties, whoever they may be. The road has always enjoyed a most enviable reputation for careful and capable management, and the character of its officers ensures the rendering of an unbiassed and strict account for this most mournful calamity.

The Herald has the following:—

The first judgment of every intelligent observer will be that it is one of those accidents for which there is the least excuse. The railroad having a double track, both of which were in good condition, there was no chance for an accident except by a fast train running into another going at a slower rate of speed. In that manner it occured, and some thirty men and women were hurried into eternity. Of course somebody is to blame. One train or the other was off its time and on the time of the other. It seems to be settled that the Beverly train was late, and that not time enough was allowed between it and the lightning train which ran into it. It is a terrible lesson, and on somebody rests a fearful responsibility. The coroner's inquest will begin to take evidence in the case to-morrow, and we trust that the blame will be settled where it belongs. We scarcely need to add that it is high time railroad slaughters like this were discouraged by something like adequate punishment of the guilty.

All the New York dailies of Monday morning have editorials headed "The Massachusetts Murder," "The Latest Massacre," etc.—The Tribune says:—

This was no accident; it was slaughter.—There must be no faint-hearted trifling with such "accidents." The recklessness which caused them is a brutal crime and must be dealt with like murder, burglary and arson.

The World says, of those to blame for the disaster:—

The verdict of humanity upon them will anticipate that of the Massachusetts jury wherever the telegraph bears the story. * * * If this (the disaster) be not murder—murder most foul, most unnatural, most clamorous to God and man for justice, then it were well to strike out at once from all legislation the useless statutes which pretend to hedge with pity and with power the lives of innocent men!

The Herald places the blame on Conductor Nolan, and says:—

It now remains to be seen whether Massachusetts can grasp the subject with the same regard for the protection of human life as New York has grasped it.

Medical Mistakes

It took the faculty about a thousand years to discover that the best way to cure diseases was not to render the patient too weak to contend with it. Within the last twenty years, however, the whole system of medical practice has been changed for the better. In diseases or complaints caused by excessive heat, for instance, the doctors no longer recommend the reduction of the invalid's strength by prostrating medicines. The vast success which has attended the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for debility, has given even the most prejudiced members of the old school an insight into the only true and rational theory of cure. Cantharides, calomel, and overpowering doses of opium, are now among the obsolete nostrums of another age. The lancet, once as much the legitimate weapon of the physician as the sword is of the soldier, is seldom drawn from its case. The principle is no longer drained from the veins by the quart, and water-gruel for the strengthless invalid has ceased to be considered an appropriate diet. Vigor is the motto of the rational members of the profession, and they understand, at last, the value of a sterling vegetable tonic. So, also, with the people at large; and without consulting medical men at all, they have adopted the bitters as a household remedy, thereby economizing both cash and health.

Note the fact, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles only, never in bulk, and that the abortions springing up in various parts of the country, and sometimes offered as substitutes for the great national specific, are all utterly worthless.

WALKER'S IMPROVED PORTABLE RANGE.

THE NEW RANGE excels anything of the kind ever offered for sale. It requires much less space than ordinary cooking stoves, and is more economical. It will heat as much water as a range set in masonry.

The HOT CLOSET retains the heat usually radiated from the bottom, which is, during the summer months WORSE THAN WASTED, thereby not only SAVING FUEL, but making the KITCHEN MORE COMFORTABLE, besides furnishing an admirable place for warming and keeping food warm, warming plates, &c. The door can be removed during cold weather to allow the heat to escape into the kitchen.

A Valuable House for Sale,

The owner, having removed from the city, wishes to sell this house, situated on West Broadway. It is a large new, two-story house with a French roof, and is furnished throughout in the best manner and with all the modern improvements. It is situated on one of the pleasantest streets in the city, and all of the surroundings are as good as could be found anywhere. The lot contains about seven eighths of an acre (162 feet on the street, and about 350 feet back) and is all under a high state of cultivation. The soil is very nice and light. There are nearly all kinds of fruit trees and shrubbery on the lot, and a nice flower garden beside the house. It is seldom that such a chance is offered to persons wishing to buy a nice house.

It must be sold immediately. For particulars inquire at No. 3, Broad Street, Bangor.

CONSUMPTION.

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case prover that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of the morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylacteric against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

AUSTRIA

NEWSPAPER OPINIONS.

Vienna, 27. The Morgen Post of Vienna advocating an alliance between Austria and Germany, says:—"Germany needs Austria as a counterbalance against France and Russia, chiefly so at the present time, when the French government is about to introduce a plan to increase her army to 2,000,000 men.—Germany is also interested that the east should not fall under the control of Russia."

The Tagblatt, another Vienna journal, says:—"France meditates revenge and the words addressed by the Czar to the French Minister at St. Petersburgh are intended as a response to the interview between Emperors William and Francis Joseph at Ischl. The contemplated Austro-German alliance will be answered by an alliance between France and Russia. Germany can only resist the enemy by whom she is threatened in front and rear by an alliance with Austria, and Austria can only thwart the schemes of Russia with the support of Germany."

The St. John "Paris crew" is rather the favorite, but Americans are backing the American crew, who are rowing well. There is considerable betting on the Paris crew, but the crew will not start unless the water is smooth.

THIRTY PERSONS NOW DEAD!

BOSTON, Aug. 28—1 P. M.

THIRTY REPORTED KILLED.

Two persons, J. A. Allen and Ann Rawson, both of Lynn, have died during the day from the results of injuries received in the railroad disaster at Revere station Saturday evening, making the total number of deaths thus far, twenty-six.

THE WOUNDED

are all doing well. Most of those killed were scarcely bruised, but died from inhaling steam, and many of the injured are suffering from severe scalds.

The most important inquest will be held by Coroner Forsaith, near the scene of the slaughter, and another inquest will be held at the City Hospital by Coroner Foye, over those who died after being brought there.

The citizens of Swampscott have called a meeting this evening, as their published call says:

"To give expression to their feelings of sympathy for the bereaved and the suffering, to discover where the responsibility rests for this new horror, and to take such measures as may be deemed best to promote the security of the travelling public."

SECOND DISPATCH.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.

Two of the three victims of the railroad disaster remaining at Revere unrecognized, were to-day identified as John F. Kelley of East Boston, and Maurice Connell of Charlestown. The third, a woman about 28 years of age, remains unknown. William A. Self of Beverly, whose name was given among the killed as "Seele," was of the firm of Royce, Peck & Co., merchants, 43 Milk street, Boston. The number of deaths is now stated at thirty. The following are additional names of the wounded:—S. O. Thayer, printer, Newton, scalded badly; Miss Lizzie Hatch, Charlestown, burned, not seriously; a gentleman named Hokey, of Boston, seventy years of age, badly scalded; Chas. H. Stocker, So. Salem, arm badly broken, also severely scalded; Edward Haley, Boston, scalded on head and hands and crippled in feet and legs; Frank B. Cotton, Boston, painfully scalded about the face.

The remains of Mr. and Miss Foster of Providence, R. I., were conveyed to that city to-day.

The funeral of the late Rev. Dr. Gannett will take place to-morrow noon at Arlington street Church.

SUITS FOR DAMAGES.

It is stated that suits for damages against the Eastern Railroad Co., for injuries received at the collision, have already been filed to the amount of $150,000.

THE CORONER'S INQUEST,

BOSTON, Aug. 28.

The Coroner's inquest met this afternoon in regard to the Revere disaster. It is composed of Dr. James B. Forsayth, Coroner, Jonathan Harrington, Andrew Burnham, John H. Proctor, Chas. Bird and Colonel Porter. The investigation is held in the Town Hall at Revere. There was a large attendance of interested citizens, including many railroad people.

The first witness called was John S. Newland, conductor on the Eastern Railroad, who testified that the regular time of starting the accomodation train was 7½ o'clock. It was very late last Saturday night, being one quarter to eight before starting. Proceeded without interruption until arriving at Somerville; started and run to Saugus Branch, where saw a train coming round the curve. Signalled the train, which was seen, and stopped it. Afterwards spoke to my engineer, who said we could go along. After a delay of 8 minutes at the Junction, we run down to Everett; ran from Everett to Chelsea; stopped there 1½ minutes and then ran to Revere.—After the passengers had alighted the word was given all right and I swung my lantern to start. Cannot say whether the train started or not. Some one on the platform said "here comes the train." I immediately jumped between the tracks and swung my lantern. Not a minute elapsed before the crash came. There was not time to do more before the collision. To the best of my knowledge it was one-quarter to eight when my train started. Knew that the express train was to follow at 8 o'clock. When we started from Chelsea Station the express train was not in sight. I had three cars and a baggage car on my train; had orders to start as soon as possible. The rule is to carry tail lights; they are white in color, and were attached and burning at the rear of the car when we arrived at Revere. The detention at Saugus Branch of 8 minutes was occasioned by the last past six train. First discovered the express train at Everett. The train was approaching at a rapid rate; could not tell whether the steam was shut off or not; the train appeared under full headway. Know the engineer of the express train, his name is Wm. Brown. I did not hear any whistle from his train; could not say whether he could hear or not. Call 35 miles per hour a rapid rate. Should judge that it was running at that rate. Had the right of road according to the rules. The use of lanterns on the rear of a train is to notify an approaching train. The invariable rule is to stop when the signals are seen. It is an understood rule that no train is to be within half a mile of a preceeding train; the instructions are printed. It would require ordinarily 1½ or 2 minutes to pass over a distance of half a mile; should think it would require one-fourth of a mile distance to break up a train running at the rate of 35 miles per hour. The weather was overcast but clear; did see a light one half mile distant that night; a light could be seen that distance on the road; should think a bull's eye could be seen a mile in a straight line. I was in the rear end of the car before we arrived at Revere. I did not see the man that tended the switches at the depot; think the man showed a light.

Could not tell the reason of the half hour's delay at Boston. Have been on the road 21 years and during that time there has been times when trains do not start on time. The camp-meeting has deranged the starting time by being heavy trains; it has been a good deal more so the last ten days than usual. Delays occur in Boston more than at any other point. Have never made complaint of making up train or time of starting. Receive orders in running time from the Superintendent. Start when behind time as soon as possible, without any signal. The Superintendent has never complained of my starting behind time during the term of my employment. Lunt, the depot master, said to me on the night of the disaster that the Superintendent wanted me to get out of the depot as soon as possible. Did not receive any caution on that night; did know that express train was to follow. With ordinary delays express would not reach me before arriving at Revere. Did not speak to any one as regards the starting of the express, and had not more than usual anxiety on the night in question. After the collision either of the engines on my train were not disabled to my knowledge. I dispatched an engine to East Boston, sent a team for Prescott and another to Chelsea. I have received instruction to send for help, physicians, &c., in case of accident. Did not look at my watch from the time I started until midnight. Gave no order to run faster than usual that night. I had the right of road that night. In case of two trains starting, the rear train is to look out for the train ahead. It was understood that the head train had the right of way and the burthen of the responsibility rested on the train that was following. Trains at Boston, in the absence of the Superintendent, are started by the depot master. I left with the understanding that the Superintendent would take care of the train that started after me. Have made no complaint of being crowded for time; never saw before that night the Pullman train. My cars have been built several years ago of the "Monitor" pattern. I did not expect express train would pass before my arrival at Beverly; did not attempt to switch off and did not consider the train would overtake me. If the signal of danger is seen by an engineer, I consider him solely responsible. Knew Brown, the engineer; have known him to use liquor; did not know he ever was under influence of liquor.

At this point the jury adjourned until to-morrow at 3 o'clock.

MOBILE, Ala., Aug. 28.

The low-pressure steamer "Ocean Wave" exploded her boiler at half-past five o'clock p. m. Sunday, at the wharf at Point Clear.—There were about two hundred excursionists on board, fifty to sixty of whom were killed and wounded. A portion of the bodies were brought here by the steamers "Fountain" and "Annie" last night; the others will be brought to-day. Efforts are being made for the recovery of the bodies drowned. The cause of the disaster has not yet been ascertained, but an investigation will be made. Among the killed was one creole family of six. The captain, engineer and pilot were killed, and only three officers escaped.

FROM NEW YORK.

RECORDER HACKETT ON THE WESTFIELD EXPLOSION—A SOUND CHARGE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.

Recorder Hackett in charging the Grand Jury this morning in the special charge on the Westfield explosion, pointed out to the jurors the provisions of the law applicable to the case, and the circumstances necessary to be found to exist in order to reach the President of the Company, the Supt. and the engineer. The Recorder said: "It is often the case that subordinates are made the scapegoats for erring officials who are over them, and who are more powerful in place and means. If it is possible on the facts and law to hold the President, Directors, etc., of common carriers responsible for accidents happening to passengers whose lives and limbs they are bound to insure against negligence, then a great and beneficial example would be set. These officials exact liberal commutation and fare, and they should be held to the utmost vigilance." He concluded by saying: "With the whole nation looking at our judicial action upon this great catastrophe, let us all give no room for after reproaches from any quarter."

THE TRUNK MYSTERY.

No further progress was made to-day with the solution of the Hudson River Railroad trunk mystery, except the discovery of the driver, Frank Cooper, of the carriage in which an unknown woman in charge of the corpse rode to the depot on Saturday p. m.—Cooper says that he saw the woman at a station on 23d street, near 3d avenue, on Saturday, and could identify her should he see her again. Three other employes of the stable also believe they could identify her. The woman was unusually small, being less than five feet high, very plainly dressed, and apparently between 24 and 27 years old. She was first noticed walking on the opposite side of the street in company with two well dressed ladies, who passed on toward 4th avenue, while she turned and entered and asked for a coupe to take her to the Hudson River Railroad depot, saying she was going to Chicago and was in a hurry. Her manner was strange and agitated and attracted notice by strangers. Boy Parks examined again to-day identified Cooper, of whom and of whose horse and coupe he had previously given a description, which Cooper confirmed in every particular. The officials attach no importance to the story of the woman from Bond street inquiring for her missing daughter at police headquarters a few days since.

The sawdust swindlers arrested on Ann street Saturday, were discharged to-day, no legal offence having been proved.

The assistant aldermen to-day concurred in the resolution of the upper board directing the Mayor to take measures for the recovery to the city of the property on which the Times' building now stands.

Of these 60 are spring wheat, 18 in winter rye, 35 or 40 in potatoes, and the rest in barley, oats, turnips, beans and garden vegetables. They have 8 horses, 9 cows, 2 yokes of oxen and over 30 swine.—The Swedes will this year fell about 2000 acres of trees for a crop next year.

—We are informed that about six o'clock yesterday morning two pistol shots were heard in Elbridge Crowell's store at West Waterville, and his family and neighbors going in to ascertain the cause found Mr. Crowell had attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself with a revolver. He fired two shots, both of which took effect in nearly the same place upon the forehead, but glanced off, making a severe scalp wound. He will probably recover.

The Medway Murder Case.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

AUGUST (CRIMINAL) TERM.

Hon Jonas Cutting, Justice, presiding.
Hon. T. B. Reed, Attorney General.
Charles P. Stetson, Esq., County Att'y.

Monday, Aug. 28th.

In the case State vs. Elbridge W. Reed, now on trial, the prosecution called Rev. John Thomas Rea, who testified that one or two nights after the reading meeting, saw prisoner in Hayford & Webster's store in Medway and noticed his hand; it was swollen and also discolored—black and blue—on the back.—Prisoner stated to witness that he fell and knocked his knuckles back; nothing was said about any shingles.

The testimony closed at half-past 9 o'clock, and Mr. McCrillis at once commenced his argument for the defense, continuing until 3.30, p. m., with the exception of an hour and a half, between 12.30 and 2, during which the Court was adjourned. A few minutes before 4 p. m., Attorney General Reed opened his argument for the Government, closing at 5.10, when Court adjourned to 9 o'clock this morning, at which hour Judge Cutting will charge the Jury and the case will be given into their hands.

Both arguments were highly creditable to the talent and acumen of the gentlemen who made them, and were listened to with intense interest by the crowd which jammed into every available inch of space in that part of the court room allotted to spectators. We regret that the crowded state of our columns will not admit of our publishing the arguments in full, and a brief summary would do them injustice.

The prisoner, who was removed from beside his counsel to the prisoner's box in the rear of the bar, quietly listened to the arguments, scarcely moving a muscle all day, but sat with his face resting on his hand, his eyes intently fixed upon the advocate who was speaking at the time.

E. & N. A. RAILWAY.

THE PROGRESS OF THE WORK—ONLY SIX MILES OF RAIL TO BE LAID.

The erection of the bridge at the second crossing of the Mattawamkeag, is progressing very rapidly. A siding has been put in immediately west of the bridge, in readiness, among other purposes, for junction with the Aroostook Railroad. About a mile of track laid with chair rail in order to reach the bridge, has been relaid with continuous rail. At this date, the only portion of the road on which iron is yet to be laid, is between Hoyt Brook bridge to the Upper Mattawamkeag bridge, a distance of six miles. Sixteen men are busy putting down rail, and they informed your correspondent on Tuesday last, that in sixteen fair working days the job would be completed and the rails continuous between Bangor and St. John. The ballasting is now about half done, but a large force of men is work with five trains, and it will soon be completed. NOPEN.

ANOTHER RAILWAY HORROR.

COLLISION OF A PASSENGER AND FREIGHT TRAIN NEAR WESTPORT, PA.—SIX PERSONS KILLED AND MANY INJURED.

Brief mention was made in our telegraphic columns yesterday, of a terrible accident at Westport, Pa., on the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad, on Saturday morning. We have further details in a dispatch from Erie, Pa., as follows:—

The mail train bound west on the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad collided with the Empire freight train going east, between 7 and 8 o'clock Saturday morning, near Westport, on the middle division of the road.

The following persons were killed:—R. C. Brown of Lockhaven, and Reuben Winstone, passengers; E. W. Hyman of Williamsport, Conductor, and Thos. Gannon of Dunkirk, fireman, of the mail train; and James W. Ward of Bellefonte, Pa., Conductor, and William Killinger of Alton, Pa., Engineer of a freight train.

Among the injured were A. J. Atwater of Lockhaven; Reuben H. las of Williamsport; Jas. Shaffer, Jr., of Sinnemahaning, Pa.; P. McCormick of Baltimore, Engineer of the passenger train; Thos. McNamy of Wayne, Pa.; A. H. Steele of Tiovesta, Pa.; G. H. Cornwall of Binghampton, N. Y.; Martin R. Fisher of Lockhaven, Pa.; P. A. Lacy of Philadelphia; Judge J. A. Dole of Tiovesta; Henry A. Thompson of Williamsport; Eben Hiper of Sinnemahaning; Frank Boove of Altoona, Baggage Master of the mail train, and Alonzo Lyon of Renova, fireman of the freight train. Other persons were slightly burned and scratched. The passenger train was about an hour late in leaving Williamsport and was running at the rate of 35 miles per hour. The freight train was running 18 miles an hour. The trains met on a sharp corner and were not visible to each other till they were only a few yards apart and their speed could not be checked. The baggage and smoking cars of the mail train telescoped, all but a few feet. The passengers in the two cars in the rear were uninjured.

An official investigation of the matter has been held, which shows that the accident was caused by neglect of the conductor and engineer of the mail train to obey orders given them not to pass Westport until the freight train had arrived there. The copy of the order was found in the pocket of the engineer, who is believed to be fatally injured, but later intelligence reports him improving, though still unable to speak.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Gen. B. F. Butler is announced to speak at Worcester, Mass., on Wednesday next.

Sec'y Boutwell is not expected to return to Washington till the 15th of September.

Renforth's remains will be sent to England.

Prince Humbert of Italy left Madrid Tuesday for home. King Amadeus will leave on Thurday, on a visit to Valencia and Catalonia.

Professor Thatcher of New York fell from the roof of his residence to that of an adjoining house, eighteen feet, and was seriously injured.

C. F. Mills of St. Louis has sued General Clinton B. Fish for $75,000 damages for slander, in publicly accusing him of having been a defaulter while they were partners in the insurance business.

Judge W. W. Boardman, an eminent citizen of New Haven, Conn., died at his residence in that city, Sunday morning. Deceased was at one time Speaker of the Connecticut House of Representatives and represented the district in Congress in the session of 1840 and 1841. He was 77 years of age.

THE FLORIDA CYCLONE. Dispatches from Jacksonville, Fla., report that in the gale of the 17th, in which the steamship Lodona was lost, the brig Pomona, Captain Brown of Richmond, Me., went ashore twenty-five miles south of Cape Canaveral, on the eastern coast of Florida. She was loaded with cotton and her cargo can be saved. The Pomona was 421 tons, and was owned in Richmond where she was built in 1866. The steamship Lodona (of whose loss mention has been made) stranded six miles north of Cape Canaveral, and the beach for nearly thirty miles is strewed with her cargo. Capt. Hovey and 20 men were lost, but the first and second officers, the chief and first assistant engineers, the cook, one fireman, the mess-boy and 6 seamen were saved.

The brig H. G. Berry, Captain Grover, of New York, went ashore 15 miles south of Cape Canaveral, and is a total wreck. Her cargo consisted of sugar and molasses, and will be lost. The H. G. Berry was built in Boothbay, Me., in 1865, and measured 297 tons. Brig S. & W. Welch, of Philadelphia, went ashore about 50 yards from the H. G. Berry. Her cargo of sugar was washed out, and Captain Watson was drowned. Barque Hilda, (built in Maine in 1856) from New Orleans to Cowes, with a cargo of tobacco and staves, went ashore 6 miles south of St. Augustine. The barque and cargo are a total loss. One of her seamen was drowned.

THE NORTH MISSOURI RAILROAD. St Louis County, by its attornies, has filed a petition in the Circuit Court to have the deed of trust under which the North Missouri Railroad was sold set aside as fraudulent. Mr. Jesup, the purchaser of the road, is a large owner in the Jacksonville branch of the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis Road, a heavy stockholder in the Kansas Pacific Railway and is largely interested in the Charles Bridge over which the North Missouri crosses the Missouri river. The amount of the first mortgage bonds assumed by purchaser is six millions; there is also a floating debt of two and a half millions, most of which, it is believed, will be paid, making the amount actually bid for the road about ten millions, which is not more than half its real worth. It is stated that the road will continue to be run in the interest of St. Louis and by its present manager, but it is likely that the gap between Mabordi and Louisiana will soon be constructed by the Chicago & Alton Co., which will give Chicago another direct connection with the Kansas Pacific Road and to Colorado.

NEW YORK POLITICS.—The German Democratic Executive Committee has adopted resolutions recommending the German General Committee to adopt resolutions declaring themselves opposed to fraud, corruption and dishonesty in public office, and that if the men accused of malfeasance in office do not immediately relieve themselves of the odium and prove themselves innocent of these charges, that the German Democrats will no longer acknowledge them as leaders or representatives of the Democratic party or its principles.

At a meeting of the leading German Democrats and principal members of the Democratic State Central Committee, recently held at Utica, ex-Governor Seymour said that the deeds of Tweed, Hall and Connolly were abhorred of all upright citizens, and that their transactions reflected odium on the whole party. He had always endeavored to preserve the Democratic party from the taint of official corruption, and he added that the power of the "Ring" must be taken from Tweed, Hall and Connolly if they did not at once clear their skirts of the charges that have been made against them.

BONDS

OF THE

EUROPEAN AND NORTH AMERICAN RAILWAY CO.

THE E. & N. A. RAILWAY is completed from Bangor Maine, to St. John, New Brunswick, a distance of 202 miles,—with the exception of 58 miles between Winn, Me., and the boundary line of the State at Vanceboro'. On this portion the track is now being laid, both from Winn eastward and from Vanceboro' westward, and the work will be completed and trains running from Bangor to St. John in September next.

This road will then be

THE ONLY RAILWAY

CONNECTING THE UNITED STATES AND THE BRITISH PROVINCES (New Brunswick and Nova Scotia). The population of the maritime Provinces is about ONE MILLION, and all the land travel, freight, mails, &c., between them and the United States, will pass over this Trunk line, which is WITHOUT COMPETITION. Although not yet completed, the business of the road is already far greater than its most sanguine friends predicted, and is continually increasing.

The net earnings from Local Business alone, on the 56 miles completed in Maine, already exceed the interest on two and one quarter millions of dollars, and will be largely increased after Sept next by the business to and from the Provinces.

To complete this road, and to equip it as fully as its present large business and the immediate increase consequent upon its completion, requires,—the Company has issued its Bonds to the amount of Two Millions of Dollars, secured by a

FIRST & ONLY MORTGAGE

ON ITS ENTIRE ROAD AND PROPERTY FROM WINN TO VANCEBORO' (besides a Second Mortgage on the entire road and equipments from Bangor to Winn 56 miles. This portion cost some $2,300,000, and the only lien thereon is a mortgage to the city of Bangor for $1,000,000)—and, in addition thereto, by a FIRST AND ONLY MORTGAGE on 800,000 Acres of Land!

Said lands being the same granted by the State of Maine to aid the construction of this road. They are situated along the Penobscot and St. John rivers, and are heavily timbered and valuable. Large tracts, especially in the fertile Aroostook Valley, (the finest agricultural district in the State,) are valuable for farming lands as well as for their timber. This immense grant of lands equals about of Railroad with which they are mortgaged. They cover 1250 square miles (nearly as large as the State of Rhode Island, which is 1306 square miles,) and are of great value.

Thus, besides the mortgage of the Railway, its equipments, &c., which alone is ample security for the Bonds, there are timber and farm lands to the amount of also pledged to ensure the payment thereof.

The Bonds are for $1000 each, due March 1 1890, bear interest at Coupons payable March 1 and September 1, in New York. Bonds registered if desired. Coupons made payable (£6 each) in London, England, if preferred.

SINKING FUND—All proceeds of sales of land, as well as of timber and other products therefrom, are, by the Trustees, to be invested in these Bonds if they can be bought at par or less; otherwise in United States, State or Municipal Securities. And on July 1, 1879, and annually thereafter until these Bonds become due or are all paid, the E. & N. A. Railway Co. is bound to pay to the Trustees a sum of money equal to one per cent. of the amount of Bonds outstanding. Such amounts, and all interest received on securities, belonging to the SINKING FUND are to be invested as above stated, and these accumulations are solely for the purpose of additionally providing for the redemption of these Bonds. The Sinking Fund constitutes a third great element of security and strength, and adds to the safety of these Bonds.

The Trustees are Hon. HANNIBAL HAMLIN, of Bangor, Me., and J. EDGAR THOMSON, Esq., of Philadelphia, Pa.

The Trustees are authorized to receive the Bonds at Par and Accrued Interest in payment for any of the lands at their appraised value.
